STATEMENT:

Alaska is a young state, where we share hope for a brighter future and a willingness to work to make it come true. I believe Alaska should always be a place to pursue a dream, build a career, enjoy God's bounty - and give something back to this Great Land.

But we risk letting this vision become a lost dream for future generations if we don't work together to keep it alive. That's why I'm running for governor - to keep Alaska a land of opportunity, hope and promise for all Alaskans, just as it's been for Nancy and me and our family.

Instead of resigning ourselves to economic decline and diminished hopes, I believe we must work together to:

- Face challenges in our fishing, timber and mining industries, and find solutions that fulfill the promise of statehood
- Build a world-class education system to keep young Alaskans home and attract others here, and build an economy offering them opportunities for rewarding careers
- Renew, enhance and expand our energy industries
- Encourage private enterprise and curb our dependence on government largesse
- Keep all Alaskan families strong, safe and healthy
- Abandon divisiveness, address subsistence and rebuild
a united Alaska

While I'm honored to have served Alaskans for 22 years as U.S.
Senator, I believe I can now do more to help us achieve these goals as governor. I ask for your support, so that together we can meet our challenges and renew the Alaska dream for a new century.

STATEMENT:

My roots in Alaska go back more than seven generations, to the Russian fur traders who arrived on Kodiak in the late 1790s and intermarried with the Native Aleuts and Alutiiq. I was raised in Ninilchik on the Kenai Peninsula, when Alaska was still a territory.

Our state's growth has been dramatic, but we must chart a new course if we are to assure a prosperous future. We need a new Administration with a different set of priorities to address today's challenges:

Budget - State government must learn to live within its means, rather than finding excuses to spend and tax more.

Economic Development - Building new transportation infrastructure and streamlining the regulatory process are among the changes we must make to create both new jobs and revenues.

Families - Many social burdens we face, such as welfare dependency, drug abuse, and crime are related to family breakdown. Strong families will do more to heal our communities than all the government programs money can buy. I support policies to strengthen families and increase parental rights. I support greater parental choice in education.

Fisheries - Thousands of Alaskans - including my own family - earn a living in the seafood industry, but our fisheries face grave challenges. State government must play a constructive role in protecting this valuable resource.

Military - Our military personnel make a huge contribution to our economy and culture. We must work to protect existing defense assets in Alaska, and attract new military investment, such as the strategic missile defense facilities.
